Dame Stephanie Shirley

The more I give, the richer my life seems to become.

Dorothy Leo

What I like about dealing with organisations that are specifically designed for women is they don't come from a place of patronising. They are very straightforward and I think they acknowledge that women can be as smart about all sorts of things to do with their lives as men can.

Having enough money not to worry is a hygiene factor. It won't actually make you happy but if you didn't have it you would be more miserable... It doesn't guarantee any happiness in life, but having it sorted makes you feel a hell of a lot better.

Fiona Price

To delegate even more, that's my aspiration. For me, in my professional life, to be able to delegate more and more and more to the very luxurious point that you are only doing the things that you really like and are best at. Wouldn't that be heaven?

Jacquie Harris

I would rather pay someone who I know is very savvy to act on my behalf and I have such a relationship with Anna that I know she is looking after me.

Rachel Elnaugh

You find that time is more valuable than money.

Sabila Din

I need someone with the ability to think widely and globally and to come up with solutions rather than me ringing and asking, should I be thinking about this here, should I be looking at that? So that is quite important, someone who can give me valuable insights.
